

Nature Trail in Khao Yai NP

th 1 Trail 1. Visitor Center Kong Kaeo Waterfall. (nature trail)

Distance: 1.2 Km. walking time: 45 minutes. One way. Easy-Even terrain.

Head trail start near the Canopy behind the Visitor Center. A asphalt trail with interpretation sign A little bit steep. This trail is in the rainforest and dry evergreen forest. Attraction point of this trail is volcanic rock around Kong Kaeo waterfall. This area is the habitat of white handed gibbon and crowned gibbon or pileated gibbon and hybrid gibbon.

Trail 2. Pha Kluaimai Campground Heo Suwat Waterfall.
Distance: 3 Km. Walking Time: 2 hrs.One way. Modurate-Rough and steep.

From the campsite, the head trail is located at the end of car park. Walking along the creek from the head trail to Pha Kluaimai waterfall, that you can see voleanic rock near the waterfall. This trail is in every green forest and wild red orchid (Renanthera cocconea Lour.) blooming on March may become the name of Pha Kluaimai: Orchid waterfall Sometime you can see crocodile on the trail, walk with careful. End of the trail is Heo Suwat waterfall, beautiful and famous waterfall of the park Trail 3. Km.33 Nong Pak chi wildlife observation tower.

Distance: 3.3 Km. Walking time: 2 hrs.One way. Modurate-Rough and steep.

The head trail is next to the park main road at km.33 (4 Km. From the VC.) There is a small car park there.

This trail walk in evergreen forest, many big trees and ficus. Good trail to see wildlife. The end of the trail passing grassland to wildlife observation tower that you can observe shorebirds in the lake and wildlife in salt lick near the observation tower. End of the trail walk along the dirt road back to main road again.

Trail 4. Dong Tiew Sai Sorn Reservoir (Mo Sing To)

Distance: 2.7 Km. Walking time: 1.30 hrs. One way. Easy-Even terrain

The head trail located across the road and just south (uphill) from Visitor Center At the first intersection go left follow the trail down through a mosaic of scrubby secondary forest and grassland to the of Mo Sing To or Saisor Reservoir. This trail is the gibbon habitat, white handed gibbon and crowned gibbon. In the past, this trail is located as American G.I. camp in Vietnam War period, that you can see the old base camp in the end of trail. Good to see sunset at Saisorn Reservoir.

Trail 5. Dong Tiew - Nong Pak Chi wildlife observation tower
Distance: 5 Km. Walking time: 3 hrs. One way. Modurate-Rough and steep.

The head trail is located across the road and just south (uphill) from Visitor Center , walk about 2.5 Km. you reach an area of grassland and secondary forest. There is a junction here. Take the left path down through the forest to Nong Pak Chi Watching Tower. From here, it is about 1 Km. along the dirt road to car park. Walk or hitch hiking about 2 Km. to the Visitor Center. This trail walk in the rainforest and end of trail is grassland. Hard walking steep grade but good to see wildlife.

Trail 6. Visitor Center Heo Suwat waterfall.

Distance: 8 Km. Walking time: 5 hrs. One way. Difficult route level.

The head trail located either by the swing bridge behind the Visitor Center the terrain is steep in places. Tree falls and streams provide obstacles to cross. Arrange for pick you up from the car park at Heo Suwat waterfall or hitch hiking back to Visitor Center. * This trail must walk with guide or park ranger, Contact at Visitor Center. No permission to walk alone.

Trail 7 Thai - American Friendship trail (Around Sai Sorn Reservoir)
Distance: 2 Km. Walking time: 1.30 hrs.One way. Easy-Even terrain

The head trail located across top of reservoir walking way (Sai Sorn Reservoir) Highlighting spectacular fores dynamic including dry evergreen forest, secondary forest and grassland. This trail is the gibbon habitat research project, white handed gibbons and crowned gibbons. This trail is forest ecotone between primitive forest and secondary forest.

When you see a sign like this:

When you see a sign like this:
The upper number is the trail's number. The lower number is the distance, in meters, from a head trail.